yawp over the roofs of
the world." Walt Whitman, 1855.

All these problems
reflect a more general
shift in the United States from goods-

producing jobs to service jobs. Although some of these service
jobs, such as many in the financial and
computer industries,
are high paying, many
are in low-wage

occupations, such as restaurant and clerical work, that pay less than the goods-producing jobs they replaced.

The first paragraph(s) of a chapter, which states the chapter's objectives and key themes. An introduction is also common at the beginning of primary chapter sections.

Introductions to chapters or sections are “must reads” because they give you a road map to the material you are about to read, pointing you to what is truly important in the chapter or section.

These CBSE Class 10 History notes for Chapter 3 help students to get a brief overview of all the concepts. By referring to these notes, students can recall all the essential topics from the chapter and can quickly revise the entire section.

Housing. A third
problem involves housing. Here there are several related issues. Much urban housing is substandard, as this chapter's opening news story illustrated, and characterized by such problems as broken windows, malfunctioning

heating systems,
peeling lead paint, and insect infestation.. At the same time,
adequate housing is
not affordable for many city residents, as
